

ALEXANDRIA.

MONDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 14.

Ex SENATOR RIDDLEBERGER says one of the reasons why he opposes General Mabone, but not the lesst, is the fact that the General is a convert to the doctrine of cenralization and the control of State elections by the federal government. "I cannot conseut," he says, "that a man shall represent me who would put the most radical construction on the 14th amendment to the constitution of the United States." How any Confederate, or the son of one, or any other southern man who sympathizes with the people among whom he lives, can sup port General Mahone is bard to understand, in view of the facts that by the General's one single vote he defeated a motion to re peal the statute prohibiting all ex-Confed erates from holding commissions in the army, that he supports all other extreme northern republican sectional and anti southern measures, and that he is hand in glove with all the most radical northern re publican South-haters, who supply him and his negroes with money, speakers and writers to aid him in his effort to put the reputable white people of Virginia, of both political parties, under his feet.

ONE of the few Virginia newspapers that support General Mahone says : "President Cleveland sent special invitations to Mr. Douglass and his wife (who is a white woman) to dine with himself and Mrs. Claveland at the White House." The GAZETTE kept pretty well informed of Mr. Cleveland's of jectional actions during his Presidency, and printed them. Fred Douglass said Mr. Cleveland invited him and his wife "to all his grand receptions." That was bad enough in all conscience. But neither Fred, nor any body else, except the Mahone paper referred to, ever before said, or hinted, that Mr. Cleveland invited Fred to dine with him; and that he never did is so well known as to go without saying. But reckleseness has become characteristic of assertions proceeding from Mahone sources.

SENATOR MANDERSON has had to return the four thousand dollars improperly given him by Corporal Tanner by rerating his pension, as that rerating was illegal. He with little grace surrenders his loot and bears the just criticisms upon his accepting the money, with less, and whines that he did not sup pose such attacks "could come to a man who had tried to do his duty to his country in ber need, and had been previously injured in that endeavor, because he could not by precipitation of action reflect upon a gallant comrade, who certainly supposed that within the requirements of the law he was doing a kindly and proper act."

SENATOR EVARTS says : "The talk about education being a domestic right, and therefore a State or communal concern, is specious. The Union is only the bigger State, comprehending the wisdom and foresight of all." This shows that Mr. Evarts, notwith standing his age and opportunities for informing himself upon the subject, is as ig norant of the true theory and spirit of the other man could possibly be.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT of the death of Smith, the razor strop man, in New York, have an old fashioned barbecue at Cuipeper will recall to the memory of the older people of the country, a man most of them thought dead, who was well known forty years ago in all the cities of the United States, who sold his razor strops on the street | chickens, ham, beef, mutton, etc., for corners and always wound up his praises thereof by saying, "just one more left of the same sort."

Col. Dan Lamont, says a New York paper, while living at the Hoffman House this summer caused considerable remark from his lonely habit of dining alone. He could be seen any evening about 6 in one of the cafe windows overlooking Broadway, teking one empowered to speak for bim, would bis meals in solitude. A year ago he would bis meals in solitude. A year ago he would be composed to speak for bim, would be compo have been surrounded by fawning seekers after favors. Such is greatness in a republic, 'Twas ever so.

Ex Congressman Finlay, of Maryland, who has just been appointed a member of the Venezuelan claims committee at an annual salary of $5,000, is not only a family connection of the President, but deserted the democratic party a year or two ago. According to the policy of the present administration, there were thus two good reasons for his appointment.

THERE IS very little regard for justice in this country now, and that little will be en. tirely dissipated unless all the parties to the Cronin murder, and all who have been attempting to bribe the jurors in that case and otherwise to obstruct the course of justice therein, be convicted and punished to the full extent of the law.

FROM WASHINGTON. [Special Correspondence of the Alexa. GAZETTS]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 14, 1889. Mr. Slempt, the Mahone candidate for Lt.

Governor of Virginia, was a guest of the Metropolitan Hotel here last night, and went morning to Leesburg, where he was booked to speak.

Mr. Randall, who is here, is still confined to his bed, but has been told by his physi-

Assistant Postmaster General Clarkson has not yet returned to his office. He has been absent therefrom so long a time as to provoke no little comment. But Mr. Clark-son is only mortal, and no mortal can perform his duties in the Postoffice Department and at the same time assist General Mahone in the conduct of his campaign in Virginia.

The Secretary of the Treasury to-day appointed Magnus S. Cease storekeeper and guager in the 6th Va. district. After the rush of last week, the streets

Mr. Lindsay, of Portsmouth, Va., is in the city to-day. He was appointed postmaster on the 28th of September, on Gen. Mahone's demand, but has not yet received his commission, it being held up in order to induce the other applicants for the place not to abandon all hope of obtaining it, and there fore to work for Gen. Mahone until the day of election.

The President denied bimself to genera callers this morning, and the only persons received by him were Secretaries Noble and Rusk. A public reception was held in the East room in the afternoon.

Among the latest arrivals in the city is Col. W. E. Sims, formerly of Danville, Va., but now of Colorado. The Colonel was once a supporter of Geo. Mahone, but, like almost all the other of the General's old supporters, is now opposed to him, and says that if called upon for that purpose he will go to Virginia and take part in the campaign. Judging from the way republicans from Maryland, Virginia, North Caroline, South Carolina and Georgia now in this city talk of President Harrison, there must be as much republican opposition to him in the South as the recent municipal elections in Indiana, Connecticut and New Jersey show there is in the North.

The following changes in the 4th class postoffices of Virginia, were made to-day Berlin, Southampton county, W. F. STATE POLITICAL NOTES.

The democrats of King William county have nominated Major J. C. Hill for the leg islature.

Capt. P. W. McKinney and Senator John W. Daniel addressed a large democratic meeting at Winchester Saturday last.

To the Editor of the Alexandria Gazette:
Dear Sir; One of the finest political speeches ever made at this place was delivered by Eppa Hunton, jr., Friday night, be fore the McKinney, Taylor and Scott Club of this place. He took Mabone's own documents on the expenses, free school and debt questions, and showed him up in fine style.

The Cronin Jurers.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14. - This morning, Judge McConnel angousced that the only business to be transacted was the appointment of a special bailiff to summon veniremen in the Cronin case. He said that Bailiff Carolan, who had been doing that work, had resigned on account of ill health.

A morning paper says appearances are against Carolan in connection with jury bribery matter, in that he actually summoned two of the men who had been bribed.

Jeremiah O'Donnell, the revenue gauger, under arrest in connection with the Cronin jury bribing conspiracy gave bail this morning in $5,000 and was released from custody.

In Judge Baker's court to day a special grand jury to further investigate the charges of jury bribing was sworn. It is composed of well known citizens.

The matter with our school system is that teachers are valued according to their literary examinations and the character of the work they do, not according to the ex. aggerated estimates placed upon their abilities by relatives and partial friends; that we have adopted the common sense and business like plan of appointing new teach ers at a minimum salary, and increasing it year by year as their experience in our thools (not in county schools which are en Edward Enerson, the philospher's son, who | tirely different in organization and methods of teaching) increases, and that we act upon the principle that when we have competent young ladies born and educated in our midst, especially those trained in our own schools, there is no need of going outside of our own community for teachers.
